WHAT MAKES A READYSTAGE THE RIGHT CHOICE FOR YOU?

Readystages are the product for those who want an all-in-one stage and storage system. This well engineered construction allows one person to transport, set up and take down in a matter of minutes. The leg storage system is built in. The built-in roll away cart feature is a must for those who set up and take down on a regular basis. If you want a self-contained stage, storage system and transport cart all-in-one, this is the product for you.

The Readystage is manufactured from quality proven components to provide you with a convenient, user-friendly stage. Versatility is another reason why so many people choose the Readystage. Staging Canadell Readystage offers three height options with storage racks for each. For a versatile, functional and convenient staging system, choose the Readystage.
